TANK CONTAINERS - YOUR LUCRATIVE GO-ANYWHERE BUSINESS

With a history going back 18 years, this tank container leasing operation has become an Australian market leader.

For almost two decades the business has supplied tank containers to an impressive clientele which includes some of the country's leading blue-chip companies. Ranging from petro-chemical multinationals to food manufacturers, the need for reliable, cost-effective transportation has driven yearly growth.

The business uses a fleet of containers ranging from the standard ISO units to specialist Sparge containers used to transport dangerous and hazardous materials. The Sparge containers, with their innovative cutting-edge design, are the only ones of their kind in Australia.

What's surprising about the business is its simple operation model. The tanks are leased to clients throughout Australia with an average lease extending for three years. The only time the business becomes responsible for storing the containers is during downtime between leases. At which point it utilises a network of depots for temporary storage, but with the business not requiring its own premises or shopfront it can be simply and effectively run from a home office.

With its unique industry position and established client base the business provides the new owner with an excellent range of growth possibilities for the future - utilise a sales team to further expand market share or add additional tanks to capitalise on demand.

Whatever you decide one of the most appealing aspects of this opportunity is the chance to life anywhere in Australia. Sydney, with its beaches and international reputation, is frequently regarded as Australia's 'Jewel in the Crown' while Melbourne is renowned for its culture, cafes and shopping. Perth, a spacious beautiful city has perfect weather and majestic Swan River. Or perhaps a quiet country town in the outback is more your style ... Oodnadatta, perhaps?
