

Perth transport company building on W.A. resource boom

You'll find few better locations for a thriving transport company than Perth, the commercial epicentre of one of the largest resource booms in Australia's history.

Established eight years ago, this business continues to generate excellent income through a well-established client base spanning a range of industries.

The core of its operation centres on servicing the scrap steel industry, although its wider clientele includes an array of blue-ribbon companies from other industries. With its excellent reputation and strong service ethic the business continues to attract new clients – its existing turnover already sits at an impressive $1 million plus.

The business maintains the high quality service standards for which it is renowned, while also maximising margins and income. Even when there is an overflow of work the use of reliable sub-contractors, sometimes up to 5 a day, ensures continuity and increases income.

Utilising its modern well-maintained fleet of prime movers, trailers and related equipment the business services a large geographical area in and around the Perth metropolitan and outlying regions. The significant economic and commercial activity in the region, in combination with the business' well-established client base, ensures its fleet is kept constantly busy.

A new owner looking to further develop the business will find a near limitless range of opportunities with even the most conservative projections indicating significant and sustained economic growth well into the future.

Perched between the Swan River and Indian Ocean, Perth is one of Australia's fastest growing coastal cities. As well as its beaches and fabulous climate, the city has a well-developed infrastructure including excellent schools and health facilities - an ideal family destination.
